Medical Director Report

Dr. Jameson reviewed several quality assurance and training priorities, emphasizing the importance of strengthening clinical performance and professional development, as follows:

- The quality of care provided on scene is equally as important as response time.
- There is a need to enhance new paramedic training and overall paramedic preparation.
- Continued development of paramedics remains a priority.
- An enhancement to the system is being requested to support advanced airway management and ventricular intubation training.
- Additional focus areas include hemorrhage control and pre-hospital care improvements.
- DEA has new rules for EMS Registration for Controlled Substances which are under review by the County.
